Press Release

Global E-Sourcing, Inc. introduces a Powerful Business Management Software Suite for the Flooring Industry

South Elgin, Illinois, USA, January 19, 2006: Global E-Sourcing, Inc. has assembled a powerful business management software suite of solutions for the tiling industry – Global TilePro™. It combines a web-based business management application with the finest 3-D virtual tile rendering installed software available to provide a complete solution for designing, selling, managing and installing flooring projects. Other floor and wall materials, such as wood, laminate and glass may be rendered as well! Whether you are a flooring designer, showroom, contractor or installer, Global TilePro™ will help you organize and manage your business more efficiently and profitably.

Jim Guzdziol, CEO Global E-Sourcing, Inc. stated “We have assembled a solution for the industry that provides a platform for flooring businesses to support their growth while improving profitability. We see a real need for these solutions and will continue to invest and improve our offering.” Vipul Shah, President Global E-Sourcing, Inc., said “The application leverages our .net platform of solutions for showrooms and countertop fabricators, Global ShowRoomPro™ and Global StonePro Web™. This is another milestone in our vision of connected solutions for the remodeling industry.”
